DID YOU KNOW ?

MENINDEE, NSW

Located 112 km of Broken Hill in the NSW Outback, this was the first town to be settled on the Darling River. The Menindee Lakes, a group of ephemeral fresh water bodies which hold three times the water of Sydney Harbour are found in the Kinchenga National Park not far from here.

The local Maidens Hotel is supposedly the second longest running pub in NSW.

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM AROUND

MINING CUTS

Australia's largest coal miner wants to limit coal production over climate change concerns. Glencore has pledged to limit its coal production and prioritise investment in other commodities as part of a transition towards cleaner energy and transportation.
